Assessment of your application

Getting to know you

When we have received your completed application form, it will be submitted to our BBA technical department for an initial review.

The initial assessment we undertake for you requires us to evaluate all the information in your application form. It is a significant task undertaken and reviewed by our product experts and carries a charge. This cost will be deducted from the total cost of all the works we finally undertake on your behalf.

We will want to meet you in person to make sure that we fully understand your requirements and aspirations. All meetings will either be via Skype (or equivalent) or at the BBA premises in Watford.

Once we have concluded the assessment of your data we will be in a position to provide you with a fully detailed contract, which sets out all the work we intend to undertake. You will need to agree this document before we can proceed to the next part of the assessment.

Maintaining your certification

BBA Certification is highly valued because it provides assurance to your clients, specifiers and designers that the product supplied is the product assessed and described by the BBA. In order to maintain this degree of confidence in your product, the BBA will need to visit your head office and production facilities usually twice a year to review your documentation and processes.

In addition, every three years we review your certification to ensure that it remains up to date (this time period may change if new regulations are introduced). There is an ongoing charge for this service which can be paid for on a 'pay as you go' basis or via our Annual Maintenance Fee (which is an easier option and allows you to spread these costs over three years).

For more information please contact BBA Client Services, at clientservices@bbacerts.co.uk alternatively you can call us on: 01923 665300 for further details.
